

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An information processing terminal of the present invention notifies a user that a call receiving sound-level set by operating a rotary operation unit provided on a main body of the information processing terminal comes to a maximum or minimum value.